

Sugar

Turrentine/Dayrell. Arr: Todd Buffa
Transcribed by Paul Kim, January 2011

Soprano

your mid - night eyes so hea - vy and tired look out from with - in

Soprano 2

Alto

Bas

5

up - on your face signs of a race you ne - ver can win

9

I know it's hard when wor - lds col - lide and you want to run but there's no place to hide

13

you need a friend to let you in - side come to su - gar

17

your sun - shine smile so warm for a whi - le is rea - dy to set

Your sun - shine smile so warm for a whi - le is rea - dy to set

Your sun - shine smile, so warm for a whi - le, is rea - dy to set

21

the more you burn the less that you learn the ol - der you get

the more you burn the less that you learn the ol - der you get the more you burn the less that you learn the ol - der you get

25

and if the world is not at your feet it won't have to be like bit - ter de - feat

and if the world is not at your feet it won't have to be like bit - ter de - feat

and if the world is not at your feed it won't have to be like bit - ter de - feat

29

reach for a taste of some - thing that's sweet come to su - gar Yeah!

reach for a taste of some - thing that's sweet come to su - gar Yeah!

reach for a taste of some - thing that's sweet come to su - gar Yeah!